As a token of appreciation, we will donate $6 (six dollars) to a charity of your choice.

You have the option of providing a URL of the charity of your choice (select other and place the URL in the text box), or simply select one from the list. We are listing here the top charities from two charity evaluators (GiveWell, and Giving what we can). The descriptions of the charities below were taken from the evaluators' web site.

Choose one of the following answers

- ☐ Against Malaria Foundation (AMF)
The Against Malaria Foundation fights malaria by distributing Insecticide-Treated mosquito nets. Malaria killed 367-755 thousand people in 2013, most of them children, and there are about 200 million cases every year. Insecticide-Treated Bednets are one of the most effective ways to prevent transmission of malaria and have averted about 450 million cases since 2000. The Against Malaria Foundation can distribute bednets for between $5-7.50
- ☐ Schistosomiasis Control Initiative (SCI)
Schistosomiasis Control Initiative treats neglected tropical diseases like schistosomiasis by assisting with deworming in schools. Schistosomiasis is a disease caused by parasitic worms. The WHO estimates that at least 261 million people required preventive treatment for schistosomiasis in 2013, but only 40 million were treated. The disease is widespread, but extremely cheap and easy to treat. SCI can distribute deworming tablets for around $2 / person / year. SCI also treat other neglected tropical diseases like hookworm, roundworm, and whipworm.

☐ Deworm the World Initiative, led by Evidence Action

Deworm the World Initiative treats neglected tropical diseases by working with governments in affected areas. Intestinal worms like hookworm, roundworm, and whipworm are Neglected Tropical Diseases, which don't currently get the attention they deserve. 875 million children require annual treatment. The treatment is cheap and easy. By providing technical assistance to governments, Deworm The World can help deworm children for around 50 cents / person / year.

☐ GiveDirectly

GiveDirectly sends money to very poor people in rural Kenya using mobile phones. GiveDirectly makes unconditional cash transfers to extremely poor people using mobile phone payment systems. The money is collected from local agents, and can be spent on anything the recipient wishes. GiveDirectly says that their average recipient earns about 65 cents (nominal) per day.

Dear Mike Marin,

Thank you for your donation of $126.00 to the poor via GiveDirectly. Your donation will go directly to an extremely poor household in Kenya or Uganda, who can use it to pursue their own goals.

This summer we're continuing to gear up for GiveDirectly's basic income pilot — the largest and most rigorous study of its kind. We've assembled a world-class research team, including leading development economist Abhijit Banerjee and former Chairman of President Obama's Council of Economic Advisers, Alan Krueger. And we've raised and matched $10 million, for a total of over $20 million towards the project.

We hope to launch this pilot by the end of the year and guarantee a long-term basic income to thousands of families across dozens of villages. In the remaining months of 2016, we aim to close the gap and raise the remaining $10 million to fully fund the project, so we can make this pilot a reality. Visit our website to learn more or to contribute to the project.

Thank you for your ongoing support of families in need, by giving directly and allowing them the opportunity to improve their own lives.

Sincerely,

Subject: Thank you for your donation of $6.00 to Here to Serve!

From: Katie Quintas <katie@heretoserve.org>

Date: 8/16/2016 6:11 PM

To: CMMNSurvey@runbox.com

Thank you for your $6.00 donation. Here to Serve's work is so important to families who find themselves in the unenviable position of having a child or parent of young children in a life-and-death medical crisis. We may not be able to change the medical outcome of their health battle, but we can change their journey by allowing the family to remain physically, financially and emotionally intact while helping them experience blessings along the way.

Yes, some of the families we serve lose their child or young parent, but because of the support Here to Serve provides, they do not lose the hope needed to go on. In fact, most of the families we serve get involved and give back because of their experience with Here to Serve, even those who lose a child or young parent

Your donation will help a struggling family with a needed gift card or something comparable. Please would you consider a monthly donation of this amount to help us develop sustainable income so we can serve more families? Monthly donations can be made by using a credit card and clicking on our gold DONATE button on our home page. We so appreciate your one-time donation and pray this donation blesses you as much as the family it will go to help. However, we hope you will consider making a sustainable impact with a monthly gift using this url: https://salsa4.salsalabs.com/o/51553/donate_page/donate. You can learn more on our website about how Here to Serve positively impacts lives of families and the companies they work for by coming alongside them to bring physical, emotional and financial relief on a journey they neither asked for nor imagined they would ever have to take.

Gratefully yours,

Dear Mike,

Thank you for your gift of $6.00 to the Alzheimer's Association. Your donation allows us to continue the fight against Alzheimer's disease through vital research and essential care and support programs and services.

As a friend of the Alzheimer's Association, did you know you can make an impact and continue the fight against this disease throughout the year? You'll find giving a monthly donation is an ideal way to support the cause. You'll be able to make regular, repeated donations that fit into your budget and provide help and hope to all affected each and every month.

Benefits of becoming a monthly donor:

- It's easy — your donation is charged to your credit card automatically each month and can be cancelled at any time.
- It's productive — monthly giving reduces the need for regular, costly fundraising appeals, so your money goes even further.
- Makes a sustained difference — recurring donations help ensure that much-needed services are available to those living with Alzheimer's disease and their families.

Please consider becoming a monthly donor today.

Thank you for your continued support!

Sincerely,

Alzheimer's Association
